

Reuters HealthCare Days

Quality HealthCare organized HealthCare Days for Reuters from 21st to 31st August 2007.

To increase Reuters staff's awareness on different health issues, we organized health talks on various topics including "Quit Smoking", "Physiotherapy", "Cervical Cancer & Vaccination", "Footcare" and "Liver Cancer". Since the topics were very relevant to daily lives, the talks had lots of enrolments.

In order to increase participant's health consciousness, they could also have spinal assessment, foot assessment as well as blood tests on cholesterol, triglycerides and fasting blood glucose.

In short, the event not only enhanced participants' understanding on various health topics, but also helped them to know more about their current health conditions.

Participant having the foot assessment

The audience listening attentively in the health talk